Gamarada Cultural Leadership with the COURAGE COACHING Model

Are you an Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander family and/or community worker in Western Sydney? Are you ready to step up into a Leadership role, or have you recently been promoted and are looking for some strategies and ideas so you can lead your team as effectively as possible?

If so, then this workshop is for you!

The COURAGE (Culture, Optimism, Understanding, Relationships, Acceptance, Gratitude, Encouragement) Coaching Model combines Wisdom Tradition with Western behavioral science and contemporary, evidence-based approaches to flexibility, change and growth. It was developed from a cross-cultural therapeutic alliance between Indigenous and mainstream health practitioners as a sound structure for peer mentoring and cultural leadership through the application of coaching in the workplace and community.

Learning Outcomes:

- Increased understanding of the journey for self-determination for First National Australian– Inspiring Leaders;
- Increased knowledge of the study and practice of self-awareness as it relates to community work, leadership and self-mastery: and
- Increased understanding of cultural leadership practices at work within Aboriginal Australia and in the nation more broadly.
