Oops, I'm a Group Facilitator!

“We are generally better persuaded by the reasons we discover ourselves, than by those given to us by others” –Blaise Pascal

Do you often find yourself unintentionally in the position of a Group Facilitator? Do you feel you have the skills and confidence to effectively facilitate a group?

This Workshop will help to:

- ◆ Increase your skills and confidence as a Group Facilitator particularly around challenging group members.
- ◆ Increase your knowledge regarding the impact of clients' multiple and complex needs on group dynamics.
- ◆ Increase your ability to use effective questions that bring reflection to the group members and assist them to explore:
 - ◆ their opportunities for growth and learning
 - ◆ their skills and abilities
 - ◆ new challenges

Facilitator: Angharad Candlin is a registered psychologist with over 25 years' experience working with families. She is currently the Manager of Catholic Care's Parent Education Program and the Chair of the Board of the Institute of Group Leaders. Angharad has facilitated parenting groups for most of her career and in addition she trains, supervises and mentors group facilitators. Her team are currently working on a new parenting program for refugees and new migrants called Parenting Side by Side in Australia. Angharad loves the work she does and is passionately committed to helping parents and group facilitators be the best that they can be.
